Turkey slams Armenian attack on Azerbaijan

Armenian authorities should learn to be part of solutions instead of problems, says Turkish Foreign Ministry

Fahri Aksut

ANKARA - Turkey's Foreign Ministry on Thursday slammed Armenia's attacks on Azerbaijan and the smear campaign against Turkey. "This hypocritical attitude of Armenia, which has maintained an illegitimate occupation in the territory of Azerbaijan for many years, clearly and obviously reveals who is the main obstacle to the establishment of permanent peace and stability in... MORE DETAILS

Turkey: 7 martyred after reconnaissance plane crash

Cemal Asan

VAN - Seven security personnel were martyred after their reconnaissance plane crashed in a mountain in Turkey's Van province, the country's interior minister said early Thursday. "Our teams have informed us that we have lost seven heroes, two of them are the pilots," Suleyman Soyulu told reporters in the eastern province. The plane crashed at an altitude of 2,200 meters (7218 feet) on Mount Artos, Soyulu added. The aircraft took off from Van Ferit Melen Airport at 6.35 p.m. local time (1535GMT). The 2015 model-plane was missioned... MORE DETAILS

Azerbaijan president: Armenia is 'fascist state'

Ruslan Rehimov

BAKU - The president of Azerbaijan described Armenia as a "fascist state" Wednesday because of its recent attack on Azerbaijan's civilian settlements where one civilian was killed. "Armenian forces could not enter

Azerbaijan in one centimeter of soil and will never be able to do this," Ilham Aliyev said during a Cabinet meeting. Stressing Armenia started clashes at the border Monday and attacked an Azerbaijan position in the Tovuz region, he said, "If we wanted to... MORE DETAILS

Relations with Turkey 'on solid ground': Russia

Elena Teslova

MOSCOW - Relations of Russia and Turkey are "based on solid ground" and have "positive interdependence," Russia's deputy foreign minister said on Thursday. The two countries are working together on long-term projects, including the construction of the Akkuyu nuclear power plant and the TurkStream gas pipeline, Alexander Grushko said in an interview with Russia's Interfax news agency. "If you look at the content of bilateral relations, including the economy, energy, and humanitarian ties, it is hard not to see that they are based on a solid ground," he asserted. "There are clearly elements of positive interdependence here. Projects such as the TurkStream and Akkuyu nuclear power plant have an impact on the very... MORE DETAILS
